THE SALT WATER CURE.

French Scientist Claims That Sea Water Conquers Disease.

The assertion that the ancients knew more about medicine than the best modern physicians seems to be confirmed by the "salt water cure" discovered by a young French scientist, M. Rene Quinton, who is proving that some of the most serious ailments can be rapidly cured by the mere injection into the blood of ordinary sea water.

Paris has now two dispensaries where "piques" of sea water are administered. Nearly all skin diseases, infantile ailments and various forms of consumption are amenable to the treatment.

The "plasma de Quinton," as it is called, is merely very pure sea water taken at Arcachon some forty feet below the surface, where the water is absolutely clear. The water, already free from sediment and organic matter, is sterilized and used for injection under the skin. In 15 per cent of the cases cure immediately followed the first injection; in 70 per cent cure followed after the sixth injection.

Gastro enteritis, which carries off 70,000 French children every year, is easily cured by the "piques."

Children admitted into the dispensary in the Rue d'Orleans in the last stages of pulmonary tuberculosis have shown improvement after the first injection. Some of these children were living skeletons, weighing less than at birth and unable to retain any food. The first injection gave them a healthy appetite, and the improvement continued with each successive "piques."

The fundamental idea of the sea water cure is that salt water is the base of all organic life. All organisms existed originally in the sea, and blood is itself nothing but a modified sea water.

A human being, says M. Quinton, is "a veritable marine aquarium," and one-fourth of his total weight consists of blood serum, which is in essence nothing but the sea water in which his ancestors, the monera and amoebae, lived.

More than a million injections of "plasma de Quinton" have been administered in France during the last four years. The cures number thousands, and there is no recorded case of a patient's disease being aggravated by the treatment.

CONCRETE WATER TANK.

Largest Structure of Its Kind—Has a Capacity of 200,000 Gallons.

The latest daring innovation in reinforced concrete construction is represented by an elevated water tank just completed at Anaheim, Cal. This tank, the first of its kind ever attempted, is thirty-two feet in diameter and thirty-eight feet high, supported on concrete posts seventy feet high above ground. Its capacity is 200,000 gallons. It is made of concrete throughout, reinforced with rings and vertical members of twisted steel.

The walls of the tank are but three inches thick at the top and five inches at the bottom and absolutely tight. The floor is supported by concrete beams radiating from the center, and the twelve posts, each sixteen inches square, are stiffened by two lines of horizontal struts at equal intervals above the base. The foundation of the tower consists of a heavy slab of reinforced concrete extending four feet into the ground.

The tank has a conical shaped roof two inches thick, with a cornice slightly raised to give ventilation for the water within. From the lowest foundation to the extreme top the height is 112 feet. The cost was $11,400, or 75 per cent of the lowest estimate on a steel tower and tank of the same dimensions.

Soil Impoverishment.

The growth of a number of successive crops of the same plant has been lately found not only to exhaust the soil for that plant, but to develop an active poison for it. Steam distillation of a wheat sick soil yielded a crystalline substance that is toxic to wheat, and from a soil exhausted for cowpeas a crystalline substance was obtained that is toxic to cowpeas, but not to wheat.

A Heavy Load to Carry

"ALL IS WELL THAT ENDS WELL."

Along with dyspepsia comes nervousness and general ill-health. Why? Because a disordered stomach does not permit the food to be properly digested, and its products assimilated by the system. On the other hand the blood is charged with poisons which come from this disordered digestion, and in turn the nerves are not fed on good, red blood, and we see symptoms of nervousness, sleeplessness and general breakdown. It is not head work that does it, but poor stomach work. With poor, thin blood the body is not protected against the attack of germs of grip, bronchitis and consumption. Fortify the body at once with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—a rare combination of native medicinal roots without a particle of alcohol or dangerous drugs.

No man is stronger than his stomach. Let the greatest athlete have dyspepsia and his muscles would soon fail. Physical strength is derived from food. If a man has insufficient food he loses strength. If he has no food he dies. Food is converted into nutrition through the stomach and bowels. It depends on the strength of the stomach to what extent food eaten is digested and assimilated. People can die of starvation who have abundant food to eat, when the stomach and its associate organs of digestion and nutrition do not perform their duty. Thus the stomach is really the vital organ of the body. If the stomach is "weak" the body will be weak also, because it is upon the stomach the body relies for its strength. And as the body considered as a whole is made up of its several members and organs, so the weakness of the body as a consequence of "weak" stomach will be distributed among the organs which compose the body. If the body is weak because it is ill-nourished that physical weakness will be found in back and knees, in hands and feet equally. So also will the weakness be equally distributed among the organs, heart, liver, kidneys, etc., being proportionately weak according to the amount of the reduction of their daily ration of nutrition.

By way of example take the case of the Assistant Treasurer of the Catholic Foresters at Quebec, Mr. Louis Paret, who writes:

"For years after my health began to fail, my head grew dizzy, eyes pained me, and my stomach was sore all the time, while everything I would eat would seem to lie heavy like lead on my stomach. The doctors claimed that it was sympathetic trouble due to dyspepsia, and prescribed for me, and although I took their powders regularly I felt no better. My wife advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—and stop taking the doctor's medicine. She bought me a bottle and we soon found that I began to improve, so I kept up the treatment. I took on flesh, my stomach became normal, the digestive organs worked perfectly and I soon began to look like a different person. I can never cease to be grateful for what your medicine has done for me and I certainly give it highest praise."

THE SECRET OUT.

To refute the many false and malicious attacks, bogus formula and other untruthful statements published by competing and disgruntled medicine men concerning Dr. Pierce's World-famed Family Medicines the Doctor has decided to publish all the ingredients entering into his "Golden Medical Discovery." Hereafter every bottle of this medicine leaving the great Laboratory at Buffalo, N. Y., will bear upon it a full list of all the ingredients entering into the compound, printed in plain English.

These ORIGINAL Little Liver Pills, first put up by old Dr. R. V. Pierce over 40 years ago, have been much imitated but never equaled. They're made of purely vegetable, concentrated and refined medicinal principles, extracted from native American roots and plants. They speedily relieve and cure foul, torpid and deranged stomachs, Livers and Bowels and their attendant distressful ailments. One or two a laxative, three or four a cathartic.
